

On Wed, Mar 6, 2019, Thea Gray <theagray@gmail.com> wrote:

Knitting during a pit stop. Like you do.

I'd love to know what was going through her mind when this photo was taken. The state of her carburetor? An idea for a character in her newest novel? Musings on how best to topple a popular dictator on the rise? (Back when this photo was taken in 1936 she would have had quite a few dictators to target.) The possibilities are seemingly endless....

You don't need to show up in a 1935 roadster to impress us (although, we confess, that would work). Just grab your knitting, crochet, or other stichery—or, hell, simply bring whatever's on your mind!—and join us at the bookshop. You'll find us this Wednesday, between 7 and 8:30 PM, in the back room of San Francisco's inimitable, irreplaceable BookShop West Portal at 80 West Portal Avenue.

Happy stitching!
Thea