

On Wed, May 2, 2018, Thea Gray <theagray@gmail.com> wrote:

Tabitha loved the cable-knit dress she'd made, but was even more pleased to discover that her new updo was a fabulous place to stash her private journal.

While to any canny observer, Cynthia's small smile revealed that when Tabitha was distracted by preparing a cuppah, Cynthia had plucked the journal from its hiding spot and read all the juicy bits. Including the fact that although Tabitha had insisted she'd not bothered with a gauge swatch, she had really made 14 in pursuit of Perfect Negative Ease.

We hope you can join us for another evening of knitting—and sharing the juicy bits—at BookShop West Portal. We'll be in the backroom of 80 West Portal Avenue from 7:00 to 8:30 this Wednesday.

See you then!

Best,
Thea